

Nanguo Li Pear Wine

where royal fruit meets ancient spirit

Queen of Pears Nanguo Li Wine, the perfect balance of orchard sweetness and fine craft: your new favourite companion for every meal.

Produced in Hai Cheng, Liaoning province, China

EVOCATIVE AND UNIQUE AROMA

A local delicacy, celebrated across China, Nanguo pears require specific growing conditions to develop the fruit's distinctive signature flavour. Crafted from sun-ripened, juicy nanguo pears - the finest Queen of Pears - Nanguo Li wine is a drink made to be shared, savoured, and celebrated at the table. Nanguo Li wine is a wine of connection. It invites slow sipping, easy conversation, and long evenings around the dinner table.

Whether you are hosting a formal feast, a casual family lunch, or a gathering of friends, it brings a touch of warmth and elegance that makes every meal feel a little more special.

Cong Gang Orchards
Hai Cheng, Liaoning Province, China.

100 YEARS OF WINEMAKING

Cultivated for over 100 years in Liaoning, Nanguo (nangwa) pears are seen growing in the mountain orchards of Hai Cheng, filling the air with an enchantingly sweet fragrance throughout the summer. Nestled in the heart of Liaoning Province, Hai Cheng is the exclusive home of Nanguo Li.

QUEEN OF PEARS

Nanguo Li pear wine strikes a warm, welcoming balance. It carries the fresh, delicate sweetness of ripe fruit with a light, crisp finish that leaves your palate refreshed. It feels like sunshine in a glass: approachable for guests who prefer something milder, yet complex enough to delight seasoned wine lovers.

